

Family time is hard enough to set aside in this stressful, commercially driven culture of ours - please help safeguard the few remaining evening hours from further commercial pressure or at least give the people the right to choose.